

For code samples, please visit:
www.github.com/sarahwheeler

For full resumé, please visit:
www.linkedin.com/in/sarahcwheeler

LANGUAGES

- Ruby/Ruby on Rails
- HTML & CSS, including Sass, Bootstrap, and Foundation
- JavaScript, including jQuery, Ember.js, and d3
- MySQL, PostgreSQL

Most Studied Languages (according to Treehouse)

- Ruby
- CSS
- Development Tools
- Android
- JavaScript
- HTML
- PHP
- Design

TEST-DRIVEN

- Minitest, RSpec
- Cucumber
- Capybara
- TDD, BDD
- Continuous integration

TOOLBOX

- OS: Mac/Linux/Windows
- Sublime Text, Vim
- Git/Github, Pivotal Tracker, Trello
- Adobe Creative Suite (InDesign, Illustrator, Photoshop)

BONUS

- Project & client management
- Editing and proofreading
- Training and hiring
- Teaching & community outreach

IRL (in real life)

- Autodidactic
- Self-motivated
- Sense of humor
- Idea-prone
- Whimsical

JUNIOR DEVELOPER

The Advisor Center • October 2014–present

Full stack development on a Ruby on Rails application for financial industry professionals in an agile environment. Duties include:

- Coding new, customer-oriented features in Rails and JavaScript frameworks
- Investigating and performing both frontend and backend bug fixes
- Writing unit & integration tests using TDD
- API development
- Product and UI design as needed
- Code reviews
- Project management

SENIOR PROJECT EDITOR

Previously: Project Editor, Editorial Assistant Cognella Publishing • May 2011–October 2014

Responsible for the creation and publication of over 120 college textbooks annually, from draft stages to printing. Duties included:

- Advising professors throughout writing and production processes
- Management of 25+ freelance specialists
- Design oversight and final layout reviews
- Overseeing project budgets and resources
- Coordination between sales, marketing, and creative departments to ensure title success
- CMS management; general editing duties.

EDUCATION

Certificate in
Ruby Programming (2014),
University of Washington

MA, Women's Studies (2011)
San Diego State University

BA, Women's Studies (2009)
University of California, Riverside